IT'S THE BIGGEST SHOW ON EARTH— OF BUSTY GIRLS

ANITA LOVES THE ARTISTIC TOUCH

TWO PAGES OF READERS' NUDE WIVES

DOWN at the world's most amazing car wash centre, they specialise in renovating human bodywork, too. The cars end up shining and the motorists and their girls leave with a new gleam in their eyes.

For the "his and hers" centre doesn't only wax and polish. It massages humans, tunes them up with a few exercises, lathers their bodies and tops them up with a choice of orange squash, beer or champagne.

Quite a high performance from the staff of four girls and two men.

For £2, a car, its driver and one passenger get the full treatment. For a carload of passengers, there is a "package price" of £2 50.

It is an offer the people of Cologne are findi[ng] [can't] refuse.

Fo[r] [is] booming at the service centre it st[ays] [ope]n till 8 p.m. most nights, and 10 p[.m.] [on] Friday.

Th[e] [m]ans, Fritz, Helga, Elke, Krista and G[e]. They enjoy looking after humans bette[r] [th]ars. Krista explained: "I like variety. [M]en come in more models than cars."

Fritz added: "Looking after women is less work than servicing cars. [We] give them a wash and you are charging their batteries at the same time."

If the new-style car wash ever comes to Britain, it will make those giveaway tumblers and plastic footballers look pretty tame.

HAS ANITA GOT FLOWER POWER?

LOVELY Anita says she is attractive to me because she is a flower child. I think they feel the power of my beautiful thoughts radiating from me, she says.

Her boyfriend says: "I'd hate to be the one to tell her, but I think it's her 36-24-35 that men can't resist."

Well, they say there are two sides to every story.

THE WEEK

WE'RE DROWNING OUR SORROWS OVER KAREN

WHEN you published our letter a year ago we didn't realise we had such support for a return bout between the Boxing Belles. And now we're drowning our sorrows because Karen has been beaten again.

It was painfully obvious that the memory of that dramatic K.O. was still with her. She was scared of Ginette's punching power and while she was an inch better at close quarters she had to give her opponent best when it came to legwork and her defence was not nearly good enough.

She was getting weaker and was a beaten girl at the end and we have to acclaim Ginette as the better of the two.

But we repeat: she is too cocky. We still want to see her cute little white boots hit the canvas and we know the girl who could do it. That luscious little dusky cutie in the snooker feature two years ago. Put the gloves on her and put them in the ring and may the best girl win.

While on the subject of single combat we think the weak idea of having just two readers wives in the beauty contest is a good one. More exciting, especially when they're so evenly matched.—E W., Goodfellowship Inn, Holl, Yorks.

I have been reading the Parade for years now but this is the first time I've really fallen for a girl. She's Gina the Jewel Girl (week ending April 21). Please let me know if her photographs will be published in future or if I must buy any.—A.K., Sheffield, Yorks.

☐ Here's one more. Sorry we can't supply photographs, Mr. K.

It's so unfair

WHILE enjoying the wives contest you are running in Parade, I feel I must complain of the unfair advantage the photographs in April 28 magazine have.

In the first week you had five contestants, then four the following week, now two. Surely they have a great advantage over the previous week.—C.M., Knaresborough, Yorks.

☐ Not at all. All the weekly winners will appear again in Parade. And it is the number of new votes each gets in the finals that decides the outright winner not the weekly totals.

That other boxing girl

PARADE'S pictures of the girls boxing bout reminds me of an article I read about Joan Rhodes, the strong girl. Joan had several contests in the ring. In 1969 she boxed Evelyn Smyth of the USA for the Ladies Heavyweight Championship. How about Parade showing us readers a girl with real muscles. Battling Blonde Joan Rhodes, in her boxing kit?

I would also be interested to hear from Parade readers who have seen Joan in action in the ring, particularly the scrap with Evelyn Smyth.—Mrs. K.S., Birmingham.

☐ We'll see what we can do Mrs. S. Meanwhile did anyone see that great bout?

They do so well

I READ in one of your articles that the medical profession urgently need sperm donors. I am quite prepared to donate sperm if you could possibly give me an address to write to. I am always willing to help the medical profession as I think they do an incredible job.—T.L., Birmingham.

How can I help?

WHO does one contact regarding the A.I.D. story published in Parade, April 14? I was interested in becoming a donor as I can sure quite a few people would be but unfortunately it does not say who to contact, clinic, hospital, doctor or what. I enjoy reading the stories in Parade but please put in addresses. I am sure there would be more response then.—J.M., Swindon, Wilts.

☐ Unfortunately it wouldn't be possible to the addresses for the whole country. Mr. M. However in case you missed last week's Parade, our doctor advises you to contact your local hospital. If they don't have a clinic, they will know who does.

It's all wrong

WHOEVER thought of the ghost husbands scheme could not have studied mankind.

Of course men will not come forward in this manner. Most men require a natural partner and I would hate to think kids of mine came out of the fridge. What a waste of love!

No sir if a lady requires offspring I suggest bringing the parties together so they can be begotten in love. You will then obtain the required manpower. Think about it. Just suppose a wife gave birth to a Chinese or Negro as what have you. It could cause quite a lot of problems in the family.—J H., Kitchin, Herts.

Bring it back

I MUST admit Mrs. H. J. hit the nail on the head. Of all the changes in your magazine I would have thought the omission of the weekly short story would be the most unpopular.

Let's have a bit of fiction back.—D.P., Portsmouth, Hants.

Parade for keeps

I'M sorry about G.D. of Manchester (Parade Postbag, April 21) who has a beef about no short stories in Parade. I recall the old Blighty, too—but then when it was read it was finished with. Now with the new Parade I doubt if any copies are ever thrown away. Mine I keep and believe me they'll never grow old in unison!.—L.K., Rochester, Kent.

YES, we'll pay 100 pence—£1—for all letters published in PARADE's Postbag. We want to hear from you! Your amusing tales, odd incidents, pet beefs—you choose the subject. We'll carefully consider every letter for publication. Write to The Editor, PARADE, Postbag, 10 John Street, London WC1N 2EB.
